AN ENERGETIC FARMER .- On last Sunday evening we had the pleasnre of calling on Mr. Westlake, at his resiof caling on Mr. Westlake, at his resi-dence, in response to a hospitable in-vitation from that gentleman. Al-though he has been domiciled but a few days on his place-purchased from Mr. Gillespie-yet evidences of his push, energy and thrift were plainly visible in the many improvements going on about the premises. In the pleas-ant chat that ensued between us, on various tonics, we found him to be a various topics, we found him to be a man of fine intelligence upon all subjects, strong in his convictions, frank in his utterances, and liberal in his views of subjects of public import. He is a strong friend to a thorough public school system, and is thoroughly con-versant with all the wants and needs of that vital question; and having been a member of the School Board in his a memoer of the school Board in his section of Illinois for many years, his opinions have the sanction of enlight-ened experience to recommend them.
